Christmas Program at Brethren Church

Large Turnout—Pleasing Program is Presented

There was a very good turnout at the Brethren Church on Sunday evening to hear the Christmas program put on by the Brethren Church Sunday School. The program committee consisting of Mrs. R. Culp, Mrs. V. E. Vancil, Mrs. Lawrence Larsen and Mrs. E. C. Bowman must have felt gratified in the successful way the long program off and the large audience present to witness it. For more than an hour and a half the audience was entertained by a list of Christmas songs, carols, instrumental numbers, readings and sketches. All the numbers were very entertaining and many of them showing exceptional ability.

A New Puzzle Contest

The Family Herald and Weekly Star have just announced a big British Lion Puzzle Contest, in which a most attractive list of prizes are offered for calculating the total of the figures forming a huge lion. It constitutes a most interesting game for every member of the family and added to this is a generous list of cash awards. Our readers may receive copies of the Lion and full details by addressing the Family Herald and Weekly Star, Montreal.

Algonquin Park contains over 1,500 lakes and due to its altitude which is from fifteen hundred to two thousand feet above sea level, hay fever is unknown.

Good Turnout at Christmas Pageant

In spite of the dust storm and the chicken pox epidemic, a good crowd gathered on Christmas Eve for the Church School program.

The program took the form of a pageant entitled "The Star Came." It opened as a church service. Then just before the Processionals, Miss Marjorie Leonard gave a most appropriate reading. The three Processionals was based upon the three gifts of the Wise Men, gold, frankincense, and myrrh. Each section was subdivided into a responsive reading, a Christmas carol and a group of worshippers filing in behind their king and offering their gifts at the manger-cradle beside which sat the Virgin.

The story, "Why the Chimes rang," proved a very fitting climax. Of course, Santa was there and distributed the popcorn balls and presents. On the whole it was one of the most satisfactory Christmas programs we have ever seen and we feel that the leaders were well repaid for their efforts.

In the twelve months ending September 1931, Canada exported 8,232,000 lbs. of butter, an increase of 7,000,000 lbs. over the preceding twelve months.

Jr. U.F.A. Meeting

The regular meeting of the Arrowwood Jr. U. F. A. was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. MacLeod on Tuesday evening.

A social period followed the business meeting and then a very delicious lunch was served.

B.Y.P.D. NOTES

The last meeting of the B. Y. P. D. was held in the Fred Miller home on Dec. 10th. Owing to the intense cold the representation of the group was not so good. The meeting opened with a sing-song followed by an address on Missionary Work in Foreign Fields by Mrs. L. Larsen. A plea was given for the young folks to organize a Mission Band. Evelyn Burries then gave an interesting reading. The remainder of the evening was spent in playing games. The next meeting is a social to be held at the home of Mr. Burries, Dec. 31st.

Party in Swastika School

Miss Frances MacBride and Mr. Leyton Sherman were hostess and host at a party held in the Swastika School Wednesday evening. The school was well decorated, the lunch was delicious and every one reported a good time.

A Dollar goes a long way

A dollar goes a long long way, provided one knows how and where to spend it, and perhaps this is why so many Canadian dollars are going just as far as they can—right out to Victoria, B.C., this winter. This is so because many Canadians who formerly "went South" for the winter months have discovered that there are attractions right at home which compare favorably with anything that is offered south of the international frontier and at a value of one hundred cents in the dollar. People are watching their money and their own homelands these days. It is fashionable to spend the winter in one's own land. Over in England, "it's being done", for the cream of fashionable society, headed by H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught, has decided that money spent at home is a patriotic and practical gesture in these days when everyone is hoping that the turn in the depression has come and it behooves the nation to conserve its pennies in every possible manner. Here in Canada, the new domestic loan has just been successfully financed; the wheat situation and other things are heralded as harbingers of better things and Mr. and Mrs. Canadian are investigating the family prospects for the winter of 1931-32. The result is that they find that one perfectly good Canadian dollar remains so in Canada, whereas it gets clipped of some 15 perfectly good cents elsewhere. The answer is simple. The picture shows the beautiful inner harbor of Victoria, B.C., as viewed from the provincial Parliament Buildings, with the Canadian Pacific Railway's palatial Empress Hotel on the right; and, below, a golfer, playing the 14th at the Oak Bay course. Both scenes might have been taken "down South".

Only Turkeys 10

The other day we had our first visit to the meat packing plant. The only department we saw was the poultry house and naturally turkeys were the order of the day.

The table was stacked high when we entered and they were handled very indifferently—not carelessly but with no particular pride. Then came another lot of about five hundred pounds and a change came over the whole staff. At the name of the shipper the face of the foreman brightened. One of the shareholders happened in and we overheard him say "These are the kind of birds we want." Then followed such remarks as, "Isn't this a beauty?" "They're great", etc.

They were a fine lot of turkeys, well fed, well starved and well dressed. Never before had we paid particular attention to these details but they were so obvious that you could not miss them. And there was a real story back of it all.

There had been former dealings between the producer and the packer and her products were sought by them. They offered her a cent bonus on her flock. Her name stood for a certain quality of product and they knew just what to expect before a bird had been seen. And they were not disappointed.

May the close of 1932 find us with something we can do and do well.

UNUS SOLUS

Scientific advancement is causing development of ideas at the expense of ideals in minds of Canada's younger generation, declared Hon. Chief Justice W. C. Simmons, when addressing a gathering of the young men's class in Knox United church recently.

The speaker spoke of the early life of the youth and the result of home influence, comparing it with stop-and-go signals, or danger and safety lights. Under the former heading, he dealt with the lack of home influence the failure to train and strengthen the mind; questionable associates, a desire for the superficial, and auto-suggestion as being a few of direct causes for the present increase in crime among those youths under 20 years of age, and between 20 and 30 years. Safety signals, he said, included development of dual qualities of the mind—the ideal as well as the intellectual, safety in acquired habits which become automatic or sub-conscious, and storing the mind or memory with selections inculcating, wisdom, purity and truth.

Fighting off Sickness

There are certain individuals who pride themselves on not giving in to illness, or on fighting off sickness as if this were something of which they should be proud, or a feat to boast of.

It is all very well not to complain of every ache or pain, and certainly there is no good purpose served in exaggerating every bodily discomfort that presents itself. But the person who fails to recognize the fact that his body is not doing its work properly and requires attention, or who remains at work when he should be in bed, is making a grave mistake.

Sick persons may think that they are brave to disregard a persistent cough or shortness of breath, but their doing so may not only shorten their own days, but may cause them to be actually a menace to others, spreading disease to those with whom they come into contact.

A lump in the breast may not appear to be a real cause for serious consideration, particularly if it is painless. However, it is neglect of such lumps that results in cancer of the breast going on to a stage where there is little or no hope for the case.

A persistent cough may seem to be of but minor importance, but it may be due to tuberculosis, which, if not given prompt treatment before it becomes advanced, will require years of care and may prove fatal.

Shortness of breath may be the first evidence of a failing heart, which, if given reasonable care, would serve for years, but which, without such care will soon become so damaged as to render its owner practically helpless for the remainder of his life.

No one is so foolish as to pride himself on his neglect of valuable possessions. We do not admire the farmer who neglects his cattle, or the man who neglects his motor car. It is no more admirable to neglect our bodies than it is to give attention to our cattle or to our motor cars. It is, in truth, much more important for us to care for our bodies because our health is the most valuable of our possessions. Moreover, worn-out organs of the body cannot be replaced as can be worn-out machinery, and we cannot purchase new bodies.

The body you have must see you through life. To fight off sickness in the sense of neglecting your body is a foolish thing to do. If you do so, you will likely pay for your foolhardiness in some serious illness; your body will wear out sooner, and you will be old before your time.

Watch for Symptoms of Tuberculosis

Not everyone with the following symptoms has tuberculosis but the presence of one or more of them is sufficient to arouse suspicion and to send the individual to his doctor to find out the cause.

A feeling of fatigue from work which did not previously cause fatigue.

Loss of strength or weight which may be accompanied by a general feeling of not being well.

Any cough which persists for a month or more.

Continued upset of digestion which may be associated with a cough.

Spitting of blood.

It is better to be on the safe side. Prompt attention to early symptoms means early treatment if it is needed, and early treatment means cure.

Happy and Prosperous

"Peace on Earth"

Far from the past the cry comes down the ages,
Of "Peace on earth and unto men good will,"
That heart-felt prayer of prophets and of sages
Breathed constantly by men and women still.

When we look back, how much our hearts are saddened
At the great failure of that noble prayer!
Instead of men by peace and friendship gladdened,
We find distrust and hatred everywhere.

Oh, how thro' lust of conquest and procession
Mankind this blessed peace has been denied!
And subjected to cruelty and oppression,
As if no Savior Christ had lived and died!

How pitiful that any Christian nation,
Professing fealty to the Lord of Love,
Should wars of hatred and of spoilation,
Still wage in the blest name of God above!

How grand and lovely would have been the story
If this great cause had prospered in the world!
The earth would have been filled then in God's glory
And war and crime from their dominion hurled.

The arts of peace and progress would have flourished,
Good-will and unity have spread around,
The weak and suffering by their country nourished,
All with content and happiness been crowned.

Almost! too late has Christendom discovered
How true it is that war is Hell's own game,
Its false veneer of "glory" now uncovered,
Revealing nought but misery and shame.

If only Christian nations were united,
And firmly resolute that war should cease,
What blessings they might bring a world war blighted
By ushering in a lasting reign of Peace!

The Passing of the Milestone

A down the pathway and just beyond the bend there stands the milestone for another year. Its shadow falls full and black athwart the way, and on the grey and dusty trail pushes and ever pushes toward the setting of the sun. It is the way we all must go—hurrying along the road of time—and yet it is a very meaningful thing, this passing of the milestone.

The old mile has had many a weary climb, where the load bore heavily and the sun smote hard; but by the wayside there have been many resting places, and there the shade was cool and deep and sweet, the moss was green, and the springs bubbled and ran over for the passer-by. The way of life is not all hard and stony, and the slopes do not all run up-hill.

The mile beyond—what can we say of it? None of us have ever passed that way. But we press on with hope strong and high the mile beyond the milestone may be better than any that there yet has been. There are always fresh visions and delightful surprises for the traveller on life's pathway if he only has the eyes to see them. Each day brings a new rising of the sun, a brighter glitter of the dewdrops, a fresh song from the birds, and he begins, as it were, with a new world all about him.

The mile beyond is the New Year, the untried future. We clasp the hand of each brother and wish him: Godspeed—a Very Bright and Glad New Year! May we all together take a new grip on the load and in 1932 write better history than we have ever written in the past. In this work-a-day world there is much to be done, many disagreeable tasks if you will; but let us always remember that we are meant to be masters and not slaves. There are those who forget this, who lose their ideas, who fail to develop the intellectual, the moral, the religious instincts that are within them; who do not reach the loftiest in human life. Let us take heed! Let us search our inmost souls to see if, in all our relations, we're doing the best we can. Are we good citizens, kind neighbors, wise parents? Are our lives sweet and pure and strong? Do we remember to "visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction?" Do we, like the One whose natal day we celebrate at this season, seek to "heal the broken-hearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised?" To these things, the very best in human endeavor, whatever it may be, we commend all those who read these pages and again we wish one and all a Happy New Year.

The Organ Man

The monkey jumps with nimble feet
To grasp a penny in the street;
Then peanuts, or a bit of cake,
Politely from your hand he'll take;
And he can dance and tip his cap,
And likes it when the children clap.
But Italy was once his home—
I wonder was he glad to come?

We extend our best wishes for a

Here and There

A new railway record, and a different one, was established recently when John Caesar, called at the Vancouver office of the Canadian Pacific Railway for his jubilee pay cheque. Mr. Caesar has 60 years service to his credit.

Canada's gold production in September hit a new record, being 240,222 ounces, as compared with 225,630 produced in August and 178,291 ounces in September 1930. The Dominion has been a gold-producing country for more than 70 years.

And now the eyes of the world are focussed on that greatest of all travellers, Santa Claus, who seems to have weathered transportation and financial problems once more. Just a good old Christmas custom!

One can visualize thousands of pairs of skis being waxed, now that the snow is here to stay. Then it will be "All aboard" for Quebec, Banff, Field or Revelstoke, or anywhere where there is a real good hill.

And, speaking of Quebec, Jack Strathdee, who was on loan to Lucerne-in-Quebec last winter, is back at the Chateau Frontenac, Quebec, as winter sports director, once more, with a lot of good ideas and a smart staff of instructors. Jack is well known throughout Canada. Incidentally he's a fine performer at the piano.

Pacific Coast ports, and indeed shipping circles throughout Canada, are mourning the passing of Captain James W. Troup, aged 76, a native of Portland, Ore., pioneer in coast-wise shipping and for 36 years manager of the B.C. coastal service of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Sino-Japanese war reports are causing more geographies to be consulted than is popularly imagined. Chin Chow, for example is almost as entertaining in its many phases as was its namesake with the prefix "Chu" during the days of 1914-1918. Besides, it's the only war we've got!

The Regina Rough Riders got a rough ride from M.A.A.A., although they earned a whole lot of applause. The Montreal team found them just about the same as the Mustangs, whom they had trimmed also 22 to 0 a week before. Harnessing the gee-gees to the Winged Wheel, so to speak!

"The Four Hundred" has long been synonymous for the people who do the right things. It is fitting, therefore that it should also be the total of the passengers on the first cruise around the world by the new wonder-ship "Empress of Britain", which left New York on December 3.

With the Canadian dollar where it is in the market, there is a marked tendency to keep it at home and many Canadians are spending, or planning to spend, the winter amid the beauties of British Columbia, instead of "going south". Fifteen per cent can mean a whole lot of dollars and the British Columbia coastline is one of nature's most beautiful spots, anyway.

British Columbia 1932 motor license plates have a chocolate background with white numbers.

The Legion of the Christmas Stocking

Many, many years ago there lived in Europe a very wealthy man named St. Nicholas. He liked nothing better than to help poor people but disliked very much being thanked for his gifts. One Christmas Eve he wished to give a purse of gold to an old man and his little daughter, and in order to escape being seen, he climbed to their roof and dropped his precious gift down the chimney. Instead of landing on the hearth however the purse fell right into a stocking which had been hung up to dry, and the next morning it was discovered there! When other people heard of the strange happenings, they too hung up their stockings, and soon all over the land it became a custom on Christmas Eve to hang up one's stocking for St. Nicholas to fill.

There are 32,209 schools or colleges in Canada, taught by 83,144 teachers and attended by 2,490,623 pupils, or one quarter of the Dominion's population. The average expenditure is about $66 on each pupil enrolled. Attendance is on the up grade, being 77 per cent for the whole Dominion, as against 64.7 in 1919. And the future of technical education is assured, for the Technical Education Act provides for Federal grants of $750,000 per year for 15 years, which means that the night schools will be able to run, to say nothing of the day courses in technical institutions. 806.

For 1932 --- The Final Test

One thing I need, if I succeed
In life's energetic game;
One force must be supreme in me
If honors I hope to claim;
For this I know: The prize will go
To him whose moral is true.
The best of luck is found in pluck—
The power to see it through.

No kindly fate can make men great
Unless they have fixed a goal,
Until they name a worthy aim
And work for it heart and soul.
The men today who fight their way
To lasting success are few:
Lord, grant to me in great degree
The power to see it through.

Not every man who says "I can"
Continues to do his best,
Yet fame is known to him alone
Who answers the final test.
So this I ask. Whatever task
Is waiting for me to do,
Give me the might to win the fight—
The power to see it through.

Twelve hundred colonies of screened bees and their accompanying queens from the Province of Alberta to China was the unique feature of the Canadian export trade to the Orient and of the shipments aboard the Empress of Russia recently. The European and American bee produces nearly twice as much honey as its Asiatic brother that has been exploited by the Chinese since the time of Confucius. (119)

Season's Greeting

Not because it is an honored custom, but because of the sincerity of our appreciation, we take this opportunity to thank you for your patronage during the past year, and wish you a HAPPY and PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR.

WAGIN' TUNG

Vol. 1, No. 20 Arrowwood, Dec. 31, 1931 Items for Thought

"WE WONDER why folks worry. There are only TWO REASONS FOR WORRY. Either you are successful or you are not successful. If you are successful there is nothing to worry about; if you are not successful there are only TWO THINGS to worry about. Your health is either good or you're sick; if your health is good there is nothing to worry about; if you are sick there are only TWO THINGS to worry about. You are either going to get well or you are going to die; if you are going to get well there is nothing to worry about; if you are going to die there are only TWO THINGS to worry about; you are either going to heaven or you are not going to heaven. If you are going to heaven, there is nothing to worry about; if you are going to the other place you'll be so busy shaking hands with old friends you won't have time to worry—so WHY WORRY?"

1932 is here; the past is history now and the New Year promises to give us bigger and better things than 1931. We heartily extend to You all a HAPPY NEW YEAR
